This was the beginning of a new era, a new decade, a new presidential administration; all needing transition from the old to the new. This was also a year of transition at Ames High. In the future, Ames High students will be spending their three years of high school in new and modern units, which will replace the familiar halls of the old Ames High building.

The Class of 1961 experienced transition from the old to the new. New honors were started and new traditions set during this transitional period. We have had the precedents of the past to look back on, and the challenge of the new to inspire us.

As fall approached, Ames High students looked forward to the coming school year with more than just the usual apprehension. The prospective picture showed something new. Along with the new building, there was to be the experience of a half day in the old school and a half day in the new, and a shuttle bus trip between the two; this was transition at Ames High in 1961.

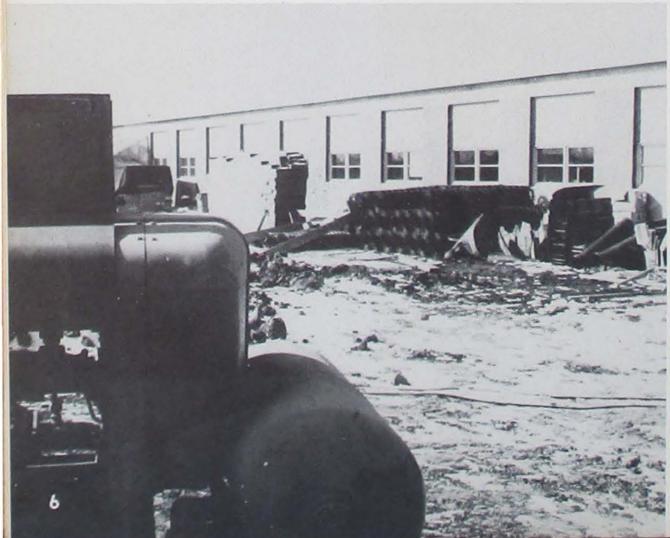

Students entered the area of the new school in the fall to be met by the roar and commotion of modern earth-moving equipment, dust from the acres of newly plowed land, and the torrid heat of that memorable first week.

Droves of students poured out of the shuttle buses, from the old into the new. They drove new cars and old ones, and they walked—discovering anew this mode of transportation as a matter of necessity.

The curiosity of each student as he entered the new building was only appeased after a group tour with his friends. The curious eagerly looked into the shops, discovering new equipment and machines. They were equally amazed by the language laboratory with its modern technique of utilizing individual booths. The new science rooms kept pace with modern technological advances, and it was easily seen that they were designed with an eye to the future.

What will the future bring to Ames High and its students? The new school will someday be complete with new facilities, honor and traditions, able to proudly take its place beside the old school. This transition has made it possible for the Ames High students of 1961 to have a hand in completing the old and starting the new.

SUPERINTENDENT AND SCHOOL BOARD

Mr. Walter Hetzel, superintendent of schools, and the members of the school board have had to work closely this year to solve the problems facing them; that of housing the growing number of students was only partially solved by the construction of the first unit of the new high school building. Mr. Hetzel indicated that had it not been for the new building, half-day sessions would have been necessary this year.

Along with the change in curriculum and teaching methods, teaching facilities have also changed since the completion of the downtown high school building. Top-quality, modern equipment had been installed in the science and shop rooms.

The school board was active in determining a budget for all of the schools and making necessary changes. The board officers were Mr. Frank E. Adams, president; Mr. Frank B. Howell, secretary; and Mr. Hiram Munn, treasurer.

PRINCIPAL AND SECRETARIES

This year Mr. Herbert Adams, principal of Ames Senior High School, was faced with the special problem of co-ordinating a two school system. Mr. Adams' job, that of scheduling classes to the teachers' and students' best advantage, was more difficult than ever before because of this situation. Along with organizing classes at the beginning of each semester, a long list of other responsibilities rested on his shoulders. He monitored the sound system every morning, planned many school functions, was always anxious to discuss school problems with students, and was on hand to greet new students and talk over matters with teachers at all times.

Mr. Adams deserves much of the credit for making this transitional year run smoothly.

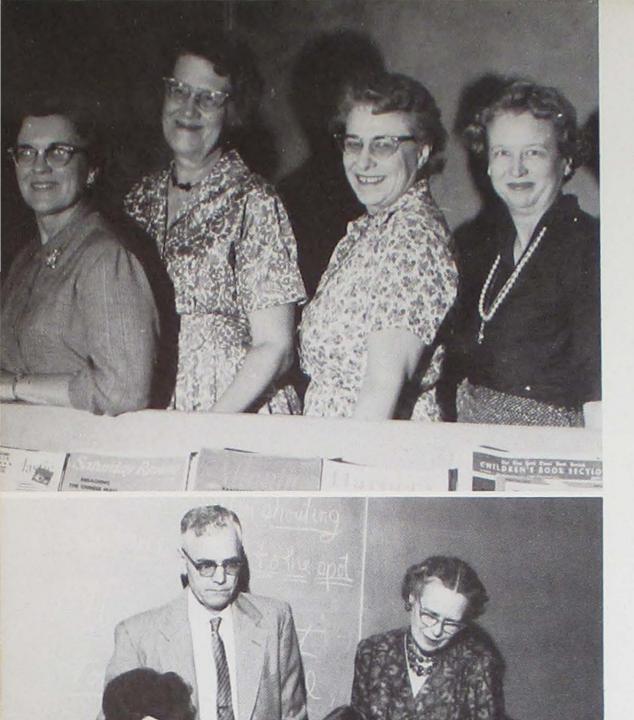

Mrs. Marina Marshall and Mrs. Daisy Flack, secretaries to Mr. Adams, assisted him by managing office business. Doing the same work at the new building was Mrs. Aurora Silzer.

CAFETERIA AND CUSTODIANS

Feeding approximately two hundred students every day was no easy task for Mrs. Maud Marsh and her assistants this year. They cooked a wide variety of meals planned to meet government standards for a type A lunch. The student staff of fourteen served the daily 35c lunch, sold extra milk, operated the cash register, and cleaned up. Menus of the week's lunches were posted every Monday in homerooms.

The custodians of Ames High School worked diligently at all times to keep the buildings clean and in good repair. They were always available and ready to help when special functions took place in the buildings.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of Student Council is to provide an opportunity for student participation in government. Therefore, it is sometimes called a "laboratory in democracy." The weekly meetings, presided over by student body president Gary Fernandes first semester and Rein Saral second semester, gave the representatives from each homeroom an opportunity to express the ideas and ideals of the whole student body.

The bulk of Student Council work was carried out through the elaborate system of committees which held frequent separate meetings to accomplish their specific tasks. Such major projects as Back-To-School Night, Homecoming, Career Day, and student body presidential elections would not have been possible without the following committees: Service, Assembly, Social, Citizenship, Homecoming, Noon Hour, Welcoming, Election, and Awards.

Assisting Mr. Everett Ritland as officers of the first semester Student Council were Gary Myers, vice-president; Ann Kirkham, secretary; and Andrea Parks, treasurer.

SENIOR SENATE

The primary projects of Senior Senate were ordering senior announcements, caps and gowns, in addition to organizing and supervising the Senior Class Play, senior picnic, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Senior class officers heading Senior Senate were Pat Kelley, president; Tom Buchholtz, vice-president; Becky Simmering, secretary; and Terry Hurlbut, treasurer. Other members consisted of one person from each senior homeroom elected at the beginning of the school year.

JUNIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The juniors, under the direction of the Junior Executive Council, worked this year to raise money to finance the Junior-Senior Prom. To go about this the council planned and organized a car wash and a leaf rake in which all the juniors participated, and engaged at various times in selling Homecoming mums, stationery on which the school emblem appeared, and student directories. Another source of funds was the Junior Class Play, "January Thaw," which was given the sixteenth and eighteenth of February.

Mr. McBride worked with the group as adviser, with junior class officers as follows: Bill Jackson, president; Hank Heath, vice-president; Charlotte Judge, secretary; and John Eggert, treasurer.

GIRL RESERVES

Girl Reserves had an important place in helping each high school girl to find and give the best in service, manners, friendship, dependability, and sincerity. Sponsoring a foster child, Luciana, as well as co-operating with Hi-Y in carrying out the activities of Friendship Week, collecting Christmas gifts for the county home, and the Teens Against Polio drive were ways in which Girl Reserves goals were carried out. Initiation of new members, the sophomore mixer, Mother-Daughter Tea, Big Pal, Little Pal Picnic, and selling pencils and Christmas sprays were the highlights of the year.

First semester president Ann Fields; second semester president Karen Coletti; secretary Shirley Bailey and treasurer Kathryn Wilken along with representative first semester president Sandy Gowan and second semester president Joyce Herrick had even more important jobs this year. Each month's Girl Reserves meeting was the only time all Ames High girls were together. Miss Edna Wilcox, Mrs. Charlotte Whitney, Miss Marilyn Stafford, and Mrs. Evelyn Thompson served as sponsors to make Girl Reserves meetings much more important and meaningful.

HI-Y

Hi-Y, the largest organization for boys at Ames High School, met once a month this year. The activities of Hi-Y were aimed at establishing and extending high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community. Along with this, Hi-Y provided opportunity for self-improvement through student leadership and by developing in each boy a sense of duty to a group.

Hi-Y engaged in a number of activities throughout the year. Dues were collected to support a foster child; two firesides were held at Lynn Fuhrer Lodge; Hi-Y arranged gym "Play Nights"; monthly hobby group meetings were held; and members ran the refreshment stand at football and basketball games. Also, in conjunction with Girl Reserves, the Hi-Y organized and participated in Friendship Week and the county home Christmas party.

First semester officers were: John Hagge, president; Dave Childs, vice-president; Norman Eckard, secretary; and Jim Brown, treasurer. Second semester these posts were held by, respectively, Mike Cox, Dave Agard, and Jim Brown. Sponsors were Mr. Edwin Stone and Mr. Hubert Albertson. These officers and the Hobby Group Leaders form the Hi-Y Cabinet.

The hobby groups and their leaders were as follows: Chess and Checkers, Tony Pappas and Gordon Eggleton; Hunting and Fishing, Jim Hatch and Phil Harris; Photography, David Maxwell; Science, Dick Trexel; Auto Mechanics, Gary Clem and Tom Lyttle; Athletics, Bill Jackson and Tom Buchholtz; Art and Architecture, Jim Brown; and Aeronautics, John Rademacher.

BAND

Ames High School boasted four bands this year under the direction of Mr. Richard Day. The marching band provided half-time entertainment at all the football games and marched in the Veishea Parade. It also made a trip to Sioux City. To finance this trip the annual candy sale held in September netted $630.00.

The Ames High Concert Band increased its membership to 86 members this year. Among its activities were the usual assembly program, the annual spring concert on March 28, and the Tri-City Band Festival held in Ames this year. The Tri-City Band, directed by Prof. Frank Piersol of ISU, included the complete bands of Fort Dodge, Webster City, and Ames. Raphael Mendez was the featured soloist for the annual spring concert, making his 2nd appearance at Ames High.

The other two groups are smaller. The pep band, about 30 members, played for all the pep meetings and home basketball games. The dance band, composed of concert band members, played for assemblies, dances, and had an out-of-town engagement.

Band members also competed in State Music Contest in the spring and took part in the All State Music Festival held in Des Moines. Officers of band were Chuck Boast, president; Roger Hedrick, vice-president; Nancy Hegland, secretary-treasurer; and Wayne Paulson, librarian.

ORCHESTRA

Under the leadership of Mr. Douglas Engelhardt, the Ames High Concert Orchestra provided an opportunity for students to investigate, learn, and perform music from the great wealth of symphonic orchestral literature.

Most of the activities were aimed at allowing the student to exhibit what he had accomplished through many hours of practice. Members of the orchestra gained experience in public appearances through participation in assemblies for the student body, public concerts, theatre orchestra music to assist the drama department, string conferences, and contests.

Officers were Mary Beth Kirkham, president; Lynda Richards, secretary-treasurer; Betty Keller, assistant secretary-treasurer; Lois Knutson, head librarian; Jo Ellen Sawyer, assistant librarian; and Nell Bruner, publicity chairman.

The choir, under the direction of Wayne Cross, provided an excellent opportunity for the Ames High singers to develop their talent. Great care was taken by Mr. Cross to acquire a wide variety of interesting music for the students to sing. A great deal of enjoyment as well as considerable musical growth was attained by all.

Throughout the year performances were given both for the student body and for other groups in the Ames area. Faculty and students had the opportunity of hearing the choir's excellent productions at Thanksgiving, at Christmas, during Friendship Week, at the spring vocal program, and at Commencement. The Presbyterian Church also witnessed an excellent performance by the choir.

Officers for the year were Aaron King, president; Nancy Smalling, vice-president; and Carol Straehle, secretary-treasurer.

Both the sophomore and junior-senior mixed choruses provided an opportunity for mixed voice singing to selected students who were not in the choir. Although the two groups met separately during the week to learn singing techniques and to practice for performances, they combined into one large group whenever a public performance was given.

This year the groups made appearances under the direction of Mr. Wayne Cross at the Christmas program, during Friendship Week, and at the Spring Concert.

President of the junior-senior mixed chorus was Joel Cerwick; vice-president, Jean Fellows; and secretary-treasurer, Linda Breckenridge. Sophomore mixed chorus officers were Jeff Peterson, president; Joyce Dickson, vice-president; and Jane Coletti, secretary-treasurer.

GLEE CLUBS

Participation in any one of the seven different sections of Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs was open to any student who wished to sing only for the pure pleasure of it. All divisions were under the direction of Mr. Wayne Cross.

The three sections of Girls' Glee Club performed this year in one group at a Girl Reserves meeting, at the Christmas program, during Friendship Week, at the Spring Vocal Program, and at Baccalaureate. Presidents were Polly Vinograde, Pam Bushman, and Janice Lee.

All four divisions of the Boys' Glee Club combined into one large group this year for performances in the Christmas program, the Spring Program, and an appearance at the Rotary Club. Presidents were Bill Rosebrook and Fred Gulden.

Under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Whitney, the journalism classes developed skill in gathering, analyzing, and writing news. Makeups, headlines, columns, editorials, and feature stories were studied and written in the daily class periods. All production of The Web, Ames High weekly newspaper, was done by the journalism staffs.

This year, due to the larger number of seniors enrolled, it was necessary to have double staffs each semester. First semester editors were Mary Schwartz and John Walkup. Margo Dunlap and Richard Johnson had this job second semester.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB AND DEBATE

The "Scripsitur," a collection of writings by Ames High students, was the main project of the Creative Writing Club. Coming out in February, it represented a great deal of work on the part of the club's members. Other activities were in writing and constructively criticizing each other's efforts in prose and poetry during the regular meetings.

The club was assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, sponsor. Officers were Alice Bancroft, president; Diane DeVaul, vice-president and treasurer; and Lynda Richards, secretary.

Resolved: That the United Nations should be significantly strengthened. This was the national high school debate topic studied intensely by the Debate Club. The purpose of the club is two-fold. First, it helped its members to think and speak logically; and second, it gave experience in interscholastic speaking. Some of the highlights of this year were attending and participating in tournaments consisting of debate, discussion, and extemporaneous speaking. The tournaments attended this year were the Fort Dodge Invitational, the Brindley Debate and Speech Tournament at Cedar Falls, and the Annual Invitational Debate tournament sponsored by Iowa State University.

President was Ann Graca with Jane Andrews, vicepresident, and Sydra Maas, secretary. Mrs. Avonelle Garrett sponsored the club.

Every other Wednesday noon members of the Library Club met in the library under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Dickenson. This service organization taught student librarians through experience the use of the many books, periodicals, and reference materials in the school library.

Each member was required to work in the library two periods every week. Here librarians helped to provide material which would supplement texts in order to add inspiration, interest, and pleasure to any class. Members also made the students feel at home in finding materials in an independent, cooperative way. This involved such activities as shelving books, repairing worn books, keeping magazines in order, and sending out overdue notices to the homerooms.

In its second year as a member of the State Library Club, the Ames High Library Club was headed by president, Marcia Heidel; and secretary, Joyce Heald.

SCIENCE SEMINAR

Students with special enthusiasm for science, high academic standing, and with acceptance into the seminar by Ames High science teachers, had an excellent opportunity for training beyond the scope of the regular science courses every Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Since Ames High School does not offer such specialized courses as geology, physiology, and astronomy, the seminar provided the occasion for interested students to meet and talk with consultants in many scientific specialties. Every other Tuesday, when they were not working on individual projects, students listened to lectures and discussions conducted by scientists from the Ames community. This third year of the science seminar has proved to be very successful as a means of educational guidance.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

To further the understanding and appreciation of the languages, people, customs, and cultures, the language clubs functioned once again this year. All of the clubs participated in regular meetings and the joint Christmas party although they were separately engaged in various activities.

The Latin Club, sponsored by Mr. William Ripp, highlighted its year with the Roman Banquet and the activities during Latin Week. Club officers were Bob Beaty, president; Mike Allen, vice-president; Curt Siemers, secretary-treasurer; and Tom Grabau, program chairman.

French Club sponsor was Mrs. Dorothy Vandecar with officers Sara McCay, president; Mary Beth Kirkham, vice-president; and Juliann Packer, secretary-treasurer. This club's activities included the Mardi Gras, an all school party, and a French dinner. Under the direction of Miss Barbera Von Wittich the three German clubs met monthly. These were the Edekweisz Klub, with Lonnie Wilson, president; Mary Nordskog, vice-president; Jackie Matuseski, secretary-treasurer; and the Tiroler Klub with Bob Sealock, president; Janet Wildman, vice-president; and Peg Duke and Ann Lundvall, secretary-treasurers.

Mrs. Marilyn Bartos served her first year as sponsor of the Spanish Club which elected Mary Jane Walsh, president; Claudia Smith, vice-president; and Jerry Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

F.H.A.

This year "Family Unity" was the state project carried out by the Future Homemakers of America. This national organization for students studying homemaking in the high schools of the United States and territories carries on chapter and individual activities which help the students to: promote good home andfamily living, develop creative leadership in home and community life, gain understanding of neighbors at home and abroad, develop their individual potential, abilities, and further interest in home economics.

The officers of the group under the supervision of Miss Betty Trout were Marcia Rench, president; Linda Wheelock, vice-president; Ann Petefish, secretary-treasurer; Nan Durian, parliamentarian; Diana Pirtle, historian; Kathleen Hoskins, reporter; and Jean Haynes, music chairman.

FILM OPERATOR'S CLUB

For the care of equipment and the showing of visual aids, an important part of many courses at Ames High, credit goes to the members of the Film Operators Club. Sponsor in the old building this year was Mr. Gerald Sielert. Mr. Leonard Bengtson was in charge at the new building.

The Ames High branch of the Distributive Education Club of America met this year under the leadership of Mr. James Overturf, sponsor, for its third year of operation. To qualify for membership in D.E.C.A., a student had to also be enrolled in Cooperative Distributive Education. The purpose of D.E.C.A., as stated in its constitution, is to develop in its members leadership in the field of distributing information on career opportunities.

Officers this year were Nancy Carr, president; Pat Clayberg, vice-president; Sharon Johnson, treasurer; and Carolyn Barber, secretary.

Back: Shirley Juncker, Mr. James Overturf, Linda Ballard, Carolyn Barber, Ruth Zea, Barb Ferguson, Bill Draisey, Dick Overland, Larry Breon, Harvey Larson, Arlin Fatland. STUDENT TREASURERS

The treasurer of each of the student activities was responsible for receiving, disbursing and accounting for all the money used by his respective organization. Faculty sponsors selected them on the basis of accuracy, promptness, dependability, responsibility, thoroughness, and diligence. All student treasurers were directly responsible to Miss Mary McNally, General Treasurer of Ames High.

As in the past, each student treasurer had to keep a cash book, make a budget for the coming year, and make a yearly financial report. This year Miss McNally was assisted by Muriel Shearer.

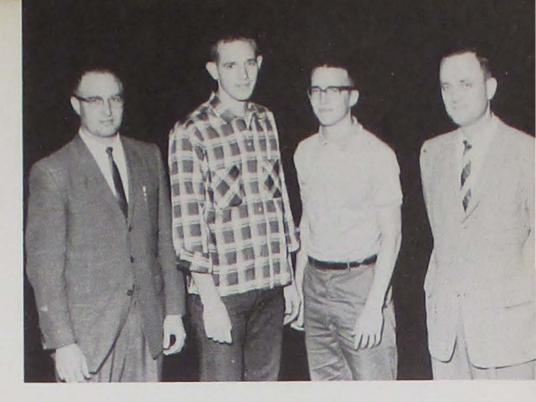

Left: Other student treasurers handling school money were Florence Barnhart, Andrea Parks, and Mary Ann Tuttle.

The membership of Firesquad had to be increased this year due to the unequal division of members in the two buildings. Just as before, the members played an important part in promoting good student conduct in halls and at all official Ames High functions. Members issued warnings to students not obeying Firesquad rules; such as crowding in lunch line, sitting on desks, running in halls, and so forth.

Monitoring posts were assigned for the following week during the regular Thursday noon meetings. Officers in charge of these meetings were Dave Childs and Aaron King, co-fire chiefs; Mike Cox, secretary; William Ripp and Walter Wood, sponsors.

Fines levied for missing meetings and failing to be on duty were used to finance the annual Firesquad picnic.

C.I.C. TITLES

WHY?

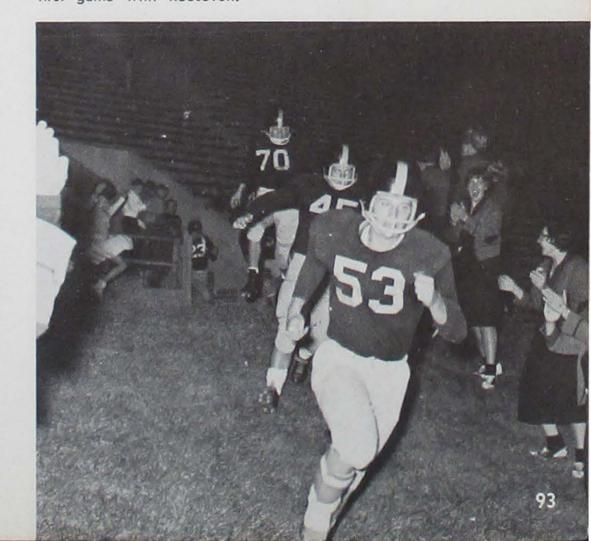

"Football at Ames is a way of life. Credit for this can go to head coach Kenny Wells who has been at the Little Cyclone helm for 20 years.

"In Ames the smart thing to do is to play football, to be out there on the field tearing somebody apart, to be playing the game to the hilt, and then some. And when the football season is over, the same attitude carries over to the rest of the athletic program.

"Call it tradition, or what you will, but when an Ames football player runs at you or past you, he's running absolutely as hard and as fast as he can. And when he blocks you or tackles you, he hits you as hard as he can, without cringing or a moment's hesitation; and he fairly well breaks you in two. He is possessed of a great second effort, an absolute refusal to go down the first time he is hit or to give up if some maneuver goes awry. And he is willing to pay the price which excellence demands."*

*By Larry Dennis, Marshalltown Times Republican, September 20, 1960.

Dave Agard, Bob Van Scoy, and Bill Dailey take the field in the first game with Roosevelt.

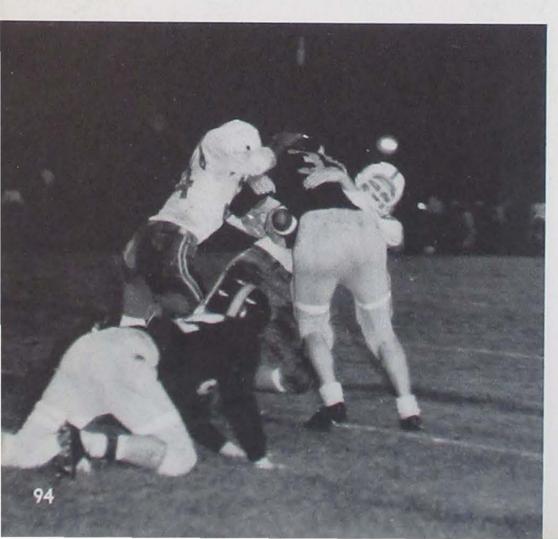

Mike Cox, Dave Agard, and Dave Childs were the only returning regulars from the 1959 squad. Coach Wells predicted that the Little Cyclones' defense would have to be tougher. This it was, holding 8 opponents to 53 points while rolling up 170 Little Cyclone points. Spirit, desire, speed, and skill characterized this year's team.

AMES SHOCKS ROOSEVELT

Predicting the outcome of the Ames-Roosevelt game, Roosevelt coach Don Prior said, "We're awfully inexperienced, we have just average speed, and I expect Ames to run away with us." No truer words were ever spoken; the Orange and Black, outweighed 18 pounds per man, rolled over the Number One team in the state, 34-7. Cox smashed for 3 touchdowns and played a terrific defensive game. His fine playing earned Mike "Back of the Week" honors. Jim Klingseis' open field running was unbelievable as time after time he rambled for big gains. Bergland and Childs, alternating at quarterback, kept Roosevelt guessing all night. Ames intercepted 3 stray Roosevelt aerials and Agard tackled a Roosevelt punter in their end zone for a safety. But when congratulations are due, the outweighed but not outfought A.H.S. forward wall should be first in line, offensively and defensively. Fullbacks Wally Stephenson and Mike Inglis completed Ames scoring.

In the first C.I.C. game, Agard led the Ames attack against Marshalltown with 2 touchdown receptions. Cox scored on a 76-yard jaunt in the first quarter and Tom Buchholtz went 28 yards for another score. Dave Childs threw a touchdown pass to Agard and scored on a 2-yard plunge. Mike Cox, again outstanding, garnered "Prep of the Week" honors to add to the previous week's award. The entire team saw action in the 34-6 victory.

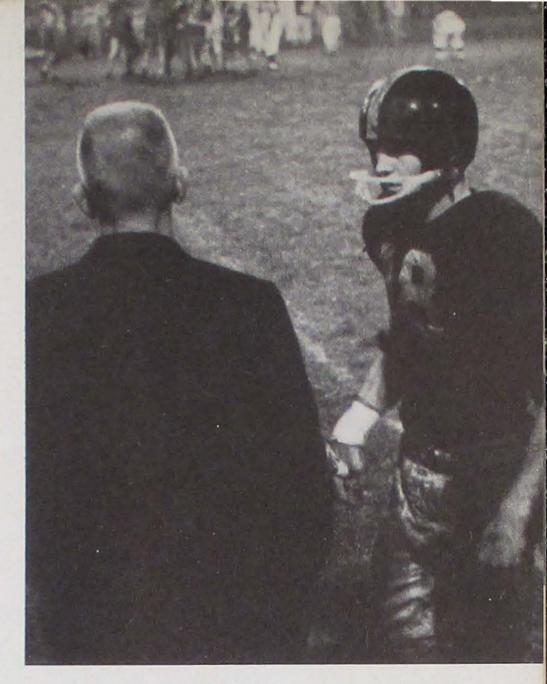

A wet, muddy night greeted the Ames men as they invaded the Oskaloosa Indian camp in the second C.I.C. game. Cox ran 50 yards after 1:16 minutes of play to score. He set up another score with a pass interception and scored on an off tackle slant. In the second half a smashing tackle by Jim Ricketts jarred the wet ball loose from an Indian runner in the Osky end zone, and tackle Jim Taylor pounced on the ball for a T.D. Final score was Ames 20, Osky 0.

Holding down their Number Two state ranking, the Little Cyclones downed Newton 21-7. Mike Cox scored 3 T.D.'s on runs of 11, 4 and 2 yards. John Ritland's circus catch of a Bruce Bergland pass set up the last touchdown. Newton was in the game all the way, however, and Ames fans didn't rest easy until Gary Myers intercepted a long pass to stop a Newton drive. It was one of the hardest played games of the season.

The West Waterloo Wahawks, showing up in Ames on Homecoming night with the gleam of victory in their eyes, struck with speed and authority, scoring on the fifth play of the game, and again on the first play of the second quarter. This 14 point bulge couldn't be overcome by the Little Cyclones; Ames did battle back in the fourth quarter for 2 touchdowns, but failed on the extra point attempts. A great individual effort by Dave Agard netted Ames' first tally. He hauled in a Childs aerial, spun away from one defender, and outraced two others to complete the 49-yard play. Waterloo, concentrating on stopping Cox offensively and defensively, yielded to Childs' throwing arm and Bergland's running, but Ames couldn't seem to put across a T.D. Cox capped a 73-yard march, however, with a 5-yard scoring smash late in the game. The 14-12 loss was Ames first defeat in five starts.

ONE POINT VICTORY

The Little Cyclones marred East Sioux City's home-coming by the margin of 1 point, kicked by Bob Van Scoy's "golden toe." According to Coach Wells, Ames was outplayed by East, but Ames salvaged the 13-12 victory on the passes of Dave Childs and Bruce Bergland. Childs completed five of nine passes, one to Bergland for the first T.D., and Bergland hit one for one. Childs threw another touchdown pass to end Paul McGuire that covered 77 yards.

28 STRAIGHT VICTORIES

The toughest and most crucial game of the year for both teams involved ensued between arch-rivals Ames and Boone, Boone, fielding their strongest team in decades, almost beat Ames for the first time since 1933. "Ram" Van Scoy's bone-crushing tackle on the opening kickoff typified the night's play. Dave Childs scored the first tally on an 8-yard scamper with 8:22 left in the first quarter. This was to be the only touchdown Ames could muster. However, Boone, kicking from deep in its own territory, yielded 2 more points in the second quarter. Jim Taylor blocked the 4th down kick, Mike Cox and Dick Clark tackled the Boone player in his end zone after he had picked up the loose ball, and Ames had the game-winning 2 points. With Ames and Boone fans on the edge of their seats, the two teams battled back and forth most of the second half. As the gun sounded on the 9-7 victory, a sigh of relief arose from the Ames stands, and the Victory Bell now adorns AHS for the 28th straight year.

Dave Agard and a stray rabbit stole the show in the finale with Grinnell. Agard caught four T.D. passes and kicked an extra point, totaling 25 points for the night. Childs' four touchdown passes to Agard went for 42, 29, 13, and 5 yards. Agard, Mike Cox, and Jim Ricketts played outstanding defensive ball. All the seniors saw action on the 27-0 victory.

Cox halts a Wahawk.

The Little Cyclones allowed only three touchdowns in five conference games played. They also forced two safeties during the season. Ames played its best game against Roosevelt, and West Waterloo was obviously the toughest opponent of the year. Mike Cox scored ten touchdowns and Dave Agard seven, to lead Ames scorers. Dave Childs threw eight touchdown passes and Bob Van Scoy kicked fourteen extra points during the 7-1 season.

COX OUTSTANDING

Mike Cox was touted as one of the greatest backs in Ames High history for his three outstanding seasons. Dave Agard's all around end play ranks him with the best in this department. "Dave Childs," remarked Kenny Wells, "is one of the greatest passers ever to play for Ames High." Other seniors Bob Van Scoy, Dave Spatcher, Rein Saral, and Ken Torrey, along with Jim Taylor, Mike Nickey, Gary Fernandes, Gary Myers, and Tom Buchholtz, all played top football.

Juniors Bruce Bergland, Jim Klingseis, Wally Stephenson, Dick Clark, Jim Ricketts, Bill Zurborg, and Paul Townsend will form the nucleus of next year's Ames High Little Cyclones.

The Ames High Sophomores had a successful 1960 football season despite the fact that they were plagued with injuries to some of their key players at crucial times.

The squad had a lot of spirit and hustle and gained valuable experience in the seven-game campaign. Several of the sophomores are considered fine varsity prospects, according to coach Maurice Hausheer.

Ames' 16 game schedule was marred only twice in 1960-61. Ames averaged 61 points per game to 46 for their opponents.

In CIC competition Ames tied for the championship with Marshalltown, finishing with a 9-1 record. Ames' 55 to 46 victory over Marshalltown was the high point of the Little Cyclone season, and their 82 to 59 loss to the Bobcats was a tough one.

Ames rolled over all other CIC competition. However, non-conference foes Mason City and Des Moines Tech involved Ames in close games. In the season's first game, Mason City beat the Little Cyclones 50 to 47, and in the last game of the season, Ames defeated Des Moines Tech 51 to 48 on an overtime.

All-stater Gene West set a new CIC one season scoring record with 237 points for the 10 game campaign. Dave Agard finished seventh in the CIC scoring ranks with 111 points, and Gary Fernandez finished thirteenth with 80 points. Bruce Bergland displayed brilliant defensive skill during the season, and Dave Childs and Jim Klingseis added scoring and defensive punch to the Little Cyclone attack.

INTRAMURALS

Art drives for two points.

Intramural competition was divided into eight teams from each class. Teams competed as homeroom units as much as possible. This year's program operated on a fall, winter and spring sports basis.

Fall sports included tennis, golf, horseshoes, passand-touch football, tug-o-war, swimming, and cross country.

Winter found table tennis, bowling, volleyball, basketball, rope climbing, chin-ups, badminton, and wrestling on the schedule.

Tennis, golf, horseshoes, and track were the spring sports.

Keen competition marked the intramural program as the boys battled furiously to accumulate points towards the grand championship for their homeroom. Points were awarded on a 12 for first, 8 for second, 6 for third, 4 for fourth and 2 for fifth basis. In the case of a sport being held both in the fall and spring, the points were awarded on a 6-4-3-2-1 basis.

Faculty sponsors are headed by Ray Smalling, assisted by Kenneth Page. Chris Bohlen received a major A for his three years' work on intramurals. Sophomores Zac Dunlap, John Dunlap and Don' Folk also assisted with intramurals this year.

The Girls' Athletic Association, sponsored by Miss Marlene Zanders, provided a chance for girls to take part in various activities such as basketball, volleyball, bowling, tennis, golf, and softball. Mondays and Wednesdays, the gym was open after school for G.A.A. activities.

Members of the G.A.A. Cabinet were Pam Cole, president; Alice Bancroft, vice-president; Florence Fuller, secretary-treasurer; Judy Agard and Peg Duke, point recorders; Mary Jane Walsh, social chairman; and Barb Diehl, intramural chairman. The representative council consisted of one girl elected from each homeroom.

HOMECOMING '60

An enthusiastic and highly spirited pep assembly held on Thursday night, October 6, marked the beginning of another exciting Homecoming at Ames High. The Pep Club girls heightened school spirit by showing a hilarious preview of the oncoming battle with West Waterloo. After each candidate and her escort were introduced, co-captains Ken Torrey and Dave Spatcher presented Cherie Karns as the 1960 Homecoming Queen with Pat Hildebrand and Judy Hutchison as her attendants.

Friday afternoon after the snake dance, the Queen and her attendants, the marching band, the Pep Club, the student body, and the Pep Club float carrying the football team gathered before City Hall to hear a rally speech by Mayor Pearle De Hart.

Neither the tremendous spirit of the students and alums nor that of the boys on the field were drastically dampened in spite of the fact that the opposition, West Waterloo, won the game.

Following the game, students and alums attended the Homecoming Dance, held for the first time in the new high school study hall and adjacent corridors. Music by Steve Rust's combo provided a satisfying finish to the excitement of the day.

COLLEGE

College Night, an opportunity to visit many different colleges without leaving Ames High, was held on December 6, 1960, from 7 to 9 p. m. Students had a chance to visit with their choice of three college representatives during the evening. Admission and scholarship information were given to the students attending. For the first time juniors and sophomores were included in College Night.

There were representatives from twenty Iowa colleges of all sizes and with all curricula. Eight out-of-state colleges were represented including Yale, Harvard, Wellesley, The University of Chicago, Bryn Mawr, and Dartmouth.

COURT DAY

Court Day for Ames High seniors was held on Thursday, January 24, in Nevada. The courthouse was open for inspection by the students. When court convened, opening remarks were given by Iowa District Court Judge Ed. J. Kelley, and a jury of twelve students were selected. With lawyers reading the parts, an actual trial was reenacted. After all the evidence was heard, the jury left to decide the verdict. The seniors were unable to agree, and returned as a hung jury with ten votes "guilty" and two votes "not guilty."

Court Day is held each year to better inform seniors of court proceedings and of officials elected by the people.

SPIRIT DANCE

Gay music played, skirts whirled, and cups were filled and refilled under floating red and white hearts to make the 1961 SPIRIT dance a real "Heart's Delight."

The crowning of Barbara North as SPIRIT Sweetheart climaxed a week of anticipation. Richard Johnson, sparking the evening with his work as emcee, crowned the queen and named Peg Billings, Joann Daniels, and Michele Moore as attendants.

The junior members of the SPIRIT, headed by Chris Smith, assistant editor, sponsored the dance to help cover the cost of the yearbook.

Hoiv - a whole page for me! You've generous! now lie tell you a little story which you probably won't belies but it's true. Last year during a vocal music program, I was looking the groups over when I saw this one guy that looked sorta neat, whom I didn't know, So I asked my gerlynend and fellow homeroom member who he was, she said - "Homm-I know I know him - Let me see - Oh - it's Thurray motione." (Exciting' Irue!) Well, time went by and what do you know? This mysterious boy turned up in a spanish class under the alias of miguel. But I knew who he was alla time, yessir! Well then I thought see just see how mee a guy he really is, and I sure wasn't disappointed I think you're one of the necest guys around. I know I was really amazed and filled with wondermen when you ran up to that Story lity game. I remembered that you had asked us to save you a seat, and I tried, but there were just too many people. I know that while you guy are sweating it out during senior week, you'll be jealous of us - out partying, primiting, swimming, etc. But in a way lee be jealous too. I never enjoyed anything so much of as being a senior. It's really a once-in-a-lifetime year. There will never be anything like it. You'll have so much fun. I want to wish you the best of luck on your semester exams, etc, but I don't think yould really maybe ell see you this se Best wishes for everything,
